

Private and confidential

Joanne Lees

19 December 2023

[REDACTED]

Dear Joanne Lees,

Health and Care Professions Council

I write to acknowledge receipt of your email dated 9th November 2023.

The Fitness to Practice Triage team reviews all new concerns that the HCPC receives to decide whether a concern is within the HCPC remit. We can only investigate concerns that raise questions about an HCPC registrant's fitness to practise. This means that the individual concerned in the matter must have an active registration with the HCPC.

A review of our Register has revealed that [REDACTED] is not registered with us. As the individual is not registered with us, these concerns do not fall within our remit for further investigation.

However, I have added her name to our Watchlist. This provides that should she attempt to apply for registration in the future, we will take the concerns you have raised with us into account when considering whether to admit her name to the HCPC Register.

You can find out more about the Fitness to Practise process via our website at: www.hcpc-uk.org.

Thank you for taking the time to raise this matter with us.

If you have any questions or queries, please email us at the following address ftp@hcpc-uk.org. Alternatively, please do not hesitate to contact the department on [REDACTED]

Yours sincerely

[REDACTED]

Triage Officer