Dear Ms Wilkes

Re: Inquest touching the death of the late Ayan SEDIQI - [REDACTED]
Regulation 28 - Report to Prevent Future Deaths

Thank you for your recent Regulation 28 Report to Prevent Future Deaths, issued on 12 January 2026, following the inquest into the death of Ayan SEDIQI. We appreciate the opportunity to respond and to outline the actions our organisation has taken, and is continuing to take, to address the matters of concern you identified.

We take the issues raised in your report extremely seriously and are committed to learning from this tragic incident to reduce the risk of any similar occurrence in the future.

Summary of the Concerns Raised

You identified the following matters of concern:

Given the duration and extent of the flowing water/ice on the A1 at the location of the collision, and the number of road users who would have passed over it, that there is a lack of public awareness as to who, where and how motorists should report circumstances which present a risk of immediate danger to road users.

Planned Actions:

To address the concern regarding public awareness of how to report road-related matters, we propose the following action:

National Highways Customer Contact Centre Promotion:

We will work with National Highways to support and amplify the promotion of their 24/7 Customer Contact Centre number within Lincolnshire Police engagement activity relating to road-related issues. This will include incorporating the number into our public-facing materials, community engagement sessions, digital communications, and routine messaging. The purpose of this action is to ensure that members of the public have greater clarity about who to contact and how to report concerns, enabling relevant agencies to receive timely information and take appropriate action. Strengthening this awareness will support faster issue resolution and help reduce the likelihood of similar circumstances arising in the future.

We believe that the action we are taking enables National Highways to best inform the public in Lincolnshire about how to report crimes to the relevant responsible organisation. Whilst we are clear that the responsibility to triage and respond to concerns around the AI in Lincolnshire rests with National Highways, we understand that our engagement reach locally is more likely to reach the intended audience, and therefore represents a better opportunity to prevent further incidents.

We are committed to learning from this case and ensuring that robust and effective systems are in place to prevent future deaths. We hope that the actions outlined provide assurance that the concerns raised in your report have been fully considered and are being actively addressed.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information.

Yours sincerely

Deputy Chief Constable
