

Sentencing Remarks

11DD0164225

R-v-Aiden Porter

1. You have pleaded guilty to five offences;
2. Two offences of sending a message conveying a threat of death contrary to section 181 of the Online Safety Act 2023.
3. The first that between the 3rd day of June 2025 and the 8th day of July 2025 you sent a message which conveyed a threat of death, and at the time it was sent, intended an individual encountering the message to fear that the threat would be carried out. This count relates to the messages you sent with threats to kill the Prime Minister, the Rt Hon Sir Keir Starmer KCB KC MP.
4. The second count relates to the messages sent in the same time frame with threats to kill the Government.
5. The maximum penalty for each of these offences is five years.
6. You also pleaded guilty to three offences of sending an indecent or grossly offensive electronic communication with intent to cause distress or anxiety contrary to section 1(1)(b) of the Malicious Communications Act 1988.
7. The time frame is the same as for the first two offences; between the 3rd day of June 2025 and the 8th day of July 2025. You sent electronic communications, which were, in whole or part, of an indecent or grossly offensive nature and the purpose, or one of the purposes, in sending them was that it should cause distress or anxiety to the recipient or to any other person to whom he intended its contents or nature to be communicated.
8. The first count relates to messages which you sent which refer to immigrants into the United Kingdom.
9. The second count relates to the messages sent which refer to women.

10. The third count relates to the messages the defendant sent which refer to transexual people

Facts

11. I turn to the facts. You are 26 years of age.

12. The offences were committed with the period between 3rd day of June 2025 and the 8th day of July 2025.

13. On the 11 July 2025 Cleveland Police received notification from Google of concerning posts on a YouTube channel registered to you. The referral included a digital package of the relevant posts within the comments section of videos which formed the basis for the charges.

14. The messages are hate driven, violent, racist and misogynistic. The details are as follows;

16. There were other messages, including thanking Hitler “for showing us, the British people will finish the job”.
17. Such is the extreme nature of what you have posted you have been flagged by Interpol as a potentially dangerous person.
18. You are an intelligent man, as Dr Green who prepared a psychiatric report observed. You are also a man consumed at times by anger and a deep hatred of those from ethnic minorities, women or those you consider to have liberal views.

Purposes of online safety act

19. We live in a diverse society underpinned by the principles of democracy, equality and recognition of the rights of others; including as to freedom of speech. Indeed in this country we jealously guard freedom of speech; but the content of these messages is such that there cannot be any protection for them.
20. Threats to Public servant such as MPs strike at the foundations of democracy.
21. Racial and gender equality have been enshrined in our legislation for fifty years as fundamental rights which allow our diverse communities to flourish. Threats and offensively expressed hatred cannot be allowed to erode these rights. Free speech is a right; but the more powerful right is to be protected from criminal threats and abuse.
22. The Online Safety Act 2023 (the Act) is a new set of laws that protects children and adults online. It puts a range of new duties on social media companies and search services, making them more responsible for their users' safety on their platforms. The Act will give providers new duties to implement systems and processes to reduce risks their services are used for illegal activity, and to take down illegal content when it does appear. Here is has worked with a report from Google disclosing your criminality.

Guidelines

23. I turn to the guidelines.
24. When sentencing an offender every court must follow any sentencing guidelines which are relevant to the offender's case unless the court is satisfied that it would be contrary to the interests of justice to do so. Here there are no directly applicable guidelines in respect of the offences; but I have considered
  - (a) Communication Network Offences; Magistrates Court Guideline as this is a summary only offence;
  - (b) Threats to kill sentencing guidelines. However you have not been charged with this offence which carries a maximum penalty twice that applicable to the offences to which you have pleaded guilty; so it can only be of limited assistance.
  - (c) The guideline for the sentencing offenders with mental disorders
25. As for this last guideline it applies when sentencing offenders who at the time of the offence and/or at the time of sentencing have any mental disorder.

26. The Court must make an initial assessment of culpability and then consider whether that culpability was reduced by reason of the impairment or disorder. Culpability will only be reduced if there is sufficient connection between the offender's impairment or disorder and the offending behaviour. The approach to sentencing should be individualistic and focused on the issues in the case.
27. It is difficult in this case to assess the impact of a personality disorder on your offending and mental health. You have long been and remain an isolated young man with no friends and little interests. You were prescribed anti-depressants, by 19 and reported frequent suicidal thoughts which resulted in you having taken 3 overdoses by the age of 21, the last of which led to you being detained in ITU and intubated. Prior to remand you were seeking help from psychiatric services and are currently under the care of the mental health team whilst in prison.

Report of Dr Green

28. I have the two reports compiled by Dr Green the first dated 29th July 2025 after seeing you at Holme House. He reported that you have had ADHD and reference has been made in the past to dissocial personality disorder. Dr Green was of view you possibly have a personality disorder, but no psychotic mental illness. He explained that you have had periods of depression and attempts at suicide.
29. Dr Green recognised it is your political views and generalised hatred of certain groups in society that underpin your offences; your ideas of a race based civil war; the role of women which were fuelled by internalised anger. You can be calm and rational and, as he put it, come across as an intelligent young man. However Dr Green's is of the opinion that these political views will persist and anger will persist and the concern is whether at some stage in the future you may attempt to put into place the threats; specifically against immigrants, women and politicians into practice. As Dr Green stated; it is stating the obvious to indicate that has to be a particular serious concern.
30. I also have the report of Dr Chakrabati of 19th February 2026. She also noted that you have ADHD and have suffered from anxiety and depression and in her opinion have a borderline mixed personality disorder. She believes that you are a substantial risk to others. You do not take responsibility for the potential consequences of your expressed views on others. Vulnerable individuals are at the risk of being radicalised.

31. I do not have a copy of the report of Dr Omar, a psychologist instructed on your behalf by your solicitors. However Dr Chakrabarti has seen it and again there is reference to personality disorders and elevation in areas linked to psychopathy.
32. The weight of evidence is that you have a personality disorder. I have to consider whether that disorder and your general mental health at the relevant time, impaired your ability
- to exercise appropriate judgement,
  - to make rational choices,
  - to understand the nature and consequences of their actions?

In my view it is highly likely that they did; to some degree. It is very difficult to be more precise given that a person with a normal personality can hold what most people would consider obnoxious views. I must reflect the impact of your personality disorder and mental health when assessing culpability.

33. Within the pre-sentence report dated 24th September 2025 the author set out her concerns about your racist and misogynistic views and your vulnerability to radicalisation or extremism. Given these views and political views there is a risk of continued offending. That is because a personality disorder is very difficult to change. However I must sentence using proper applicable principle and reflecting culpability as set against the available sentencing powers.
34. My assessment is that your culpability would be high as these communications were meant to cause fear and distress. I then have to factor in your personality disorder which reduces that culpability.

Harm

35. There are no victim impact statements. However the likely impact of these offensive, corrosive and hurtful comments on any normal reader is obvious. There is also the risk of radicalising others.

Aggravating and mitigating factors

36. As regards Counts 1 and 2 an aggravating feature is that the offences committed against those working in the public sector or providing a service to the public.

There is no doubt that your offences have arisen solely because Sir Kier Starmer is an MP and the Prime Minister and serving his constituents and this country in office.

37. I should make clear that whilst the ability to make measured criticism of political decisions is a vitally important right within our democracy, no MP and member of government should ever face personal threats, harassment or intimidation. Democratically elected politicians perform a vital, public role within our society which they must be able to undertake without fear for their own safety or that of their families. If individuals who are elected or are considering running for election to public office are not properly protected from unlawful threats and harassment the democracy of this country is eroded.
38. As regards aggravating features of counts 3,4 and 5 the first is that you were motivated by hostility based on religion, race, transgender identity.
39. Secondly you were also previously warned about malicious communications in 2019 and 2021 when sent abusive and threatening texts; spoken to and warned about the criminality of such messages sent to an ex-girlfriend and mother of another ex-girlfriend.
40. Whilst the offences against immigrants, women and transgender individuals are separate and could be reflected in consecutive sentences, this offending was within the same time frame and was part of a pattern of you expressing your hatred of sections of our community and the politicians who protect their rights. It is appropriate to reflect all offending on Counts 1 and 2 bearing in mind the principle of totality.

Mitigation

41. As for mitigating features you have no previous conviction.
42. As I have set out after careful consideration it is my view that your personality disorder has had some impact on culpability. As for mitigation I recognise that your ADHD, depression and anxiety must have made your life very difficult at times.
43. You have also suffered significant ill health in custody, a flare up of serious intestinal problems that you have suffered from for years. This has made custody more onerous for you than others. In my judgment this should be reflected by a significant discount.

The Custody threshold

44. I am wholly satisfied that the offences (combination of offences) are so serious that a community sentence cannot be justified.

Reduction for guilty plea

45. You are entitled to a deduction of one third. At the Magistrates Court concern was expressed over your fitness to plead with an indication that the plea was likely to be guilty if you were fit. It was reasonable for medical assessment to be awaited before a plea was offered. You then pleaded guilty at PTPH. I have been referred by Mr Newcombe to the decision of the Court of Appeal in Murphy [2013] EWCA Crim 1951.

Dangerousness

46. You have no previous relevant scheduled offences. Accordingly, consideration of an extended sentence pursuant to s279 of the Sentencing Code would only fall to be considered if the total sentence imposed (after credit for guilty pleas) exceeded the statutory required 4 years. The appropriate sentence in this case does not do so. I cannot apply the provisions.

47. However as I have indicted you have been assessed as presenting a high risk to the public including females, MP's and people from ethnic minority groups.

48. You also have poor insight into your offending behaviour and in my view are in clear need of psychological assessment and treatment.

Can the sentence be suspended

49. I have considered whether the sentence should be suspended but have concluded that the appropriate punishment can only be achieved by immediate custody.

50. I should add that I am wholly satisfied that the offences are so serious that a community sentence cannot be justified.

51. I am also satisfied that this is the shortest term commensurate with the seriousness of the offences.

Ancillary orders

52. An application for a Criminal Behaviour Order has been uploaded. The application includes an exclusion zone and a duration of 56 months. There is a supporting statement from PC Settry. I have considered submissions and make a more limited order in the terms which I have explained to you.

Time served

53. You shall have full credit for the period of time which you have spent in custody on remand for these offences, and for half any time spent under curfew which qualified for.

Licence

54. When released on licence you will need a high level of supervision and I recommend supervision from counter terrorism agencies. It is also my view that you require psychological assessment and treatment. A copy of these remarks should be sent to those who are considering licence provisions. I am greatly obliged for the assistance that PC Settry has given in this case. He identified suitable accommodation and obtained an assurance that a place would be available if you were released today. The effect of the sentence I shall pass will be that you are released very shortly. I hope the accommodation can remain available for the very limited time required.

Surcharge

55. You must pay the victim surcharge

Conclusion

56. Aiden Porter I sentence you as follows:

1. Count 1, 18 months.
2. Count 2, 18 months concurrent.
3. Count 3, 9 months concurrent.
4. Count 4, 9 months concurrent.
5. Count 5, 9 months concurrent.

A total of 18 months to be served. You are eligible for release after half of that sentence; nine months. You have effectively already served the over 8 months of it, so will be released very shortly.

57. I make a criminal behaviour order in the terms which I have explained.
